Loss of the Chubb name

For almost 200 years Chubb has been the name behind products customers know and trust, but from August 2010 that name will have to change. Although Chubb has been the name known for high quality locks for so long, the brand is actually owned by an American multi-national and sold under a licence that ran out in August 2010 unfortunately a decision was made not to extend the licence and hence the name can no longer be used.

Assa Abloy will continue to offer exactly the same "Chubb" products customers know and trust, but will no longer be able to offer them under the Chubb name. Instead they will continue to be available under other prestigious brands including Yale and Union which have an equally strong reputation and long history within the secondary security and locking markets. Although they will not bare the Chubb name these locks will still be "Chubb At Heart."
